BILL CAULIN

Technical Architect, Integrated Design Group

EDUCATION

University of Pennsylvania, M. Arch., Philadelphia, PA, 2008

University of Pennsylvania, BA Arch., Philadelphia, PA, 2006

Through focused design and research, Mr. Caulin works to adapt existing spaces to the evolving demands of healthcare and technical design. He maintains highly developed skills in numerous CAD/3D platforms, image editing software, and analysis tools. Working side by side with the IDG team, he coordinates with consultants, completes construction documentation, and administers all phases of construction. Mr. Caulin has experience installing a wide range of complex medical equipment, including mammography and x-ray scanners. Diligent technical and equipment related work comprises the heart of Mr. Caulin's experience to date.
